

War and Sugar

Before the war, England imported practically all of its sugar from Germany, Austria and far-away Java. France produced all the sugar it needed, and had some to export. Italy supplied itself.

The war abruptly shut off England's supply of sugar from Central Europe. The armies of Europe have overrun the beet fields of Northern France, Belgium, Poland and Russia. Today the battle lines encircle the vast sugar beet area of the Central Powers. About one-third of the world's former production is unavailable to the European Allies.

The main sources of available sugar for the United States and the Allies are narrowed down to the West Indies (principally Cuba), Hawaii, the Philippines, Louisiana, and the sugar-beet fields of the Middle West.

Cuba has now increased its production of sugar cane, but England, France and other foreign countries perforce have increased their importations of sugar from Cuba.

There is an abundance of sugar in far-away Java. It is as useless to the world as unmined gold, because no nation can spare the ships to carry it.

This country and Europe could only procure sugar from Java by using ships badly needed to carry American troops and supplies to France.

It takes 150 days for a cargo ship traveling at the rate of 200 miles a day to go from England to Java and return, counting in the loading and discharging at both ends. The same ship traveling between New York and France takes 50 days for a round trip.

Therefore the same ship can make three round trips between New York and France while it is making one round trip between England and Java.

The competition among nations for Cuban raw sugar has forced up its price, with a necessary corresponding increase in the cost of refined sugar. This competition has now been overcome by the combined efforts of the United States Food Administration, the Allied Governments, and all elements of the sugar industry.

In the midst of such abnormal conditions, this Company has done everything within its power, in co-operation with the Government, to provide an even distribution of sugar to consumers at the lowest possible price.

In constant effort to stabilize the price, we have even sold sugar at less than market prices—for some time at a full cent a pound below the market.

Last February and March there were severe strikes in the refineries of this and other companies. But in the face of the new problems thus created, we

In war time and at all times it is our aim to safeguard the interests of the public we serve.

MATTERS OF INTEREST IN WESTERLY

Christ Episcopal Church to Raise Part of Rhode Island Allotment for War Work—Officers of Loyal Pride of New England Lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., Installed—Local Laconics.

Christ Episcopal church in Westerly is expected to do its full share of war work in the campaign of next Sunday, when it is planned to raise in the Episcopal churches in the United States the sum of $500,000 to carry on the present work for a year. The allotment to Rhode Island is $200,000 and is apportioned to the churches on the basis of one-tenth the amount of last year for the church pension fund. It is estimated that there are 71,315 Episcopalians in the military service and it is planned to bring the church close to their men. Every dollar contributed, so it is stated, will be devoted to actual war service, and the half million is to be expended as follows:

- To equip chaplains, $100,000; to supply voluntary chaplains, $100,000; to maintain a register of churchmen, $5,000; for the assistance of churches near cantonments, $50,000; for work of co-operating agencies, $95,000; for work overseas, $100,000; for emergency needs, $50,000.

The army chaplain needs service books and an altar. In France his regiment of 3,000 men is billeted in villages along five, ten and fifteen miles. He needs a small automobile or motorcycle, and many other supplies. Owing to the small number of chaplains, it is planned to furnish voluntary chaplains to aid the commissioned chaplains. These voluntary chaplains work in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A. In all the larger camps laymen, through the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, who are above the draft age, have been given the status of Y. M. C. A. secretaries. Their work is to look after the needs of members of the Episcopal church.

At the semi-annual meeting of Loyal Pride of New England lodge, I. O. O. F., Manchester Unity, the officers were installed by District Deputy John Simister of Providence, assisted by Harry Sutcliffe, Joseph B. Weeden, grand master; Thomas Chadburn, noble grand; Robert F. Says Acid Stomach Causes Indigestion

Excess of hydrochloric acid sours the food and forms gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydro-chloric acid in the stomach, which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Epsom Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Epsom Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.
